Young Writers Workshops

Led by Ohio-based illustrator, comic book author and children's educational presenter, Steve Harpster, the Young Writers Workshop will guide children in the development of their first published book.

The Friends will present two sessions on April 6 for young writers to explore the basics of writing and illustrating their own story. The two sessions will accommodate different age groups.

The two workshops are on April 6 at Delaware Main Library. Ages 5-7 are at 9:30 am and ages 7-9 are at 1:30 pm. Pre-registration is required, and the $10 tickets will be available via Eventbrite. Additional info will be available via email (to active Friends members) and on Facebook at: @FriendsoftheDelawareLibrary. The Delaware Main Library is at 84 E Winter St in downtown Delaware.

Each child's unique story will be professionally printed and bound and put into circulation within the DCDL catalog. The children will also receive a copy to keep. Additional copies can be purchased at the workshop for $5 each with delivery prior to Mother's Day. These books make great gifts!

Adult and teen volunteers are needed. For details, please contact Penny Mong at: vicepresident@delawarelibraryfriends.org.

January event reviews

The chill of January couldn't dampen our spirits! We had great attendance at our Volunteer Appreciation event and the author visit featuring Laura Kamoie. Thanks to all who made these events successful through your planning, set-up, clean-up and participation. Check out the calendar below for our next few months of events.
